SUMMARY

Katherine Gailer is a Colombian born artist currently based in Melbourne. Her practice incorporates drawing, painting and printmaking. Gailer's artwork is concerned with transformation and the spiritual renewal of ordinary people and mainstream society, as she believes that our awareness of the spirit holds the key to the growth of a more integrated and balanced society. Rediscovering a sense of the sacred and revisiting our ancient past are chore inspirations for the development of her artwork. She believes that art can provide what is missing in the technological accelerated pace that now dominates our way of life and is an essential tool in the venture of reaffirming our human value.

Her interest in cultural development and arts management has grown parallel to her experience working as an independent painter and performer, Katherine has recently completed an Arts Management Masters Degree and has been involved in the development of a variety of artistic projects. A determined, multi-faceted and positive woman
